

BEARS 2009

Center for Entrepreneurship & Technology
225B Bechtel Engineering Center, 3:00 – 4:00pm

The Center for Entrepreneurship & Technology (CET) is a CITRIS-affiliated academic center and industry partnership within UC Berkeley's College of Engineering. Its mission is to equip engineers and scientists with the skills to lead, innovate, and commercialize technology in the global economy. Through teaching, programs, network building and research interlaced with strong industry participation, the Center teaches entrepreneurship as it relates to individual venture creation and to innovation within existing entities.